Star's Note:

Many years ago I spoke with Lady Portia about the fact that I could hear the words, "Uma Waka," as the name of this area where I live near the Catalina Mountains just north of Tucson, Arizona. Her response was that this was "spirit speak" which was, she said, very close to the "Native American speak."

I was also given the understanding that the translation of these words means "the Land where the Earth meets the Sky," since the soaring mountain peaks are often surrounded and caressed by the clouds which form over the mountains.

The Ancient Ones of this area knew that these mountains are, indeed, a Sacred Area on the Earth where much beautiful Spiritual energy is able to be downloaded and anchored into the Earth through the action of clouds, rain, storms, and lightning – all the natural activities and elements taking place on the Earth -- in concert with the activities of many beautiful Angels, Elohim, Ascended Masters, Cosmic, and other Beings of the Light who assist with these activities.
