Channel’s Note: Information in the first sections of this article which focus on the arrival and presence of the laggards on earth, and Lord Sanat Kumara’s activities to save the earth from dissolution, are drawn from the information given by the Spiritual Hierarchy from 1936 to 1972, through the efforts of The Bridge to Freedom, Inc., The Summit Lighthouse, the Theosophical Publishing House, the Lucis Trust, and others, including guidance and direction from Count St. Germain in the activities of The Bridge to Freedom, Inc. This material was included in the book, “The Gnosis and The Law,” which was, through selfless service to the Light, lovingly compiled by Tellis S. Papastavro.

The remainder of this article, comprising information and messages from Count St. Germain and Lady Portia, was given through their Spiritual Messenger, Star Hinman.

“Those who do not remember, and learn the lessons of the past, are destined to repeat them!” Lady Portia

It began in the ancient civilization existing on the continent of Lemuria, when the pure souls inhabiting earth volunteered to accept those who were called “the laggards” from other star systems. These were rebellious beings who had repeatedly refused to make the necessary progress to be able to advance with their planets, which were ascending to higher dimensional realities.

As a result, these beings were destined to be without a planet where they could continue their souls’ growth towards the light. By their refusal to move forward in their evolution, they had doomed themselves to the fate of “the second death” – whereby, after physical death, a soul is reabsorbed into the “Godhead” or Creator consciousness, and their energies are re-polarized as a part of divinity. In this way, these particular souls lose the opportunity, which they had previously been given, to advance as an individual consciousness and attain enlightenment.

This is often considered by the spiritual hierarchy to be the most tragic circumstance which can befall a developing and evolving being.

When the inhabitants of earth learned the details of what was unfolding in these other star systems, they made the heartfelt offer to allow these laggard souls to come to earth and incarnate through the “volunteers” of earth – the women who had agreed to birth these souls as children through their physical bodies. Those of earth felt that this loving act of “selfless service” would be a great “gift to life” for all these laggard souls, whom they thought would certainly be raised up into the consciousness of light in the relatively short span of one hundred years.

In retrospect, at that time, earth was a relatively young planet – innocent, pristine, and beautiful – in a state of being which has evoked our legends of “the Garden of Eden.” There was oneness in consciousness between Earth and the heavenly realms, which allowed the Seraphic, Cherubic, and Angelic Legions, Ascended Masters, Devas and other spiritual beings to walk freely among the human inhabitants of earth -- who were fully able to communicate with them through their physical senses.

There was no knowledge of “evil” – and no polarity of “good and evil,” or anything less than their strong connection with their own Divine Presence. Therefore, there was no manifestation of illness, death, or decay within the human forms, such as we know today. All that was needed for human comfort was easily manifested by drawing forth light substance from the Universal into earthly manifestation through the use of their own thoughts and feelings, to create homes, temples, gardens, and things of great beauty. This state of divine perfection, peace, and beauty endured for the timeframe of approximately one million years on earth – through the experience of the first, second, and most of the third Root Races.

The Uninvited

Into this innocent, pure, and pristine environment, came the laggards. And, unfortunately, along with these laggard souls, also came many who were not invited. These were beings of very destructive knowledge and intent, who also brought with them their “creations” -- which were the product of activities by the advanced scientists in other systems of worlds, who, through their scientific knowledge and experimentation, had created these “artificial beings” who were not of divine origin and did not contain the divine patterns of perfection of the Creator. This information has been given to humanity, not to frighten anyone, but to relay the knowledge that among humanity there are some who are not of divine origin. The result of this activity has been to create very destructive results upon the consciousness of humanity, and through divine efforts, this situation is still being repaired and restored in the present day.

The Preparation

Of course, there was much preparation on many levels, before the Lords of Karma would allow the introduction of these laggard souls into earth’s atmosphere for incarnation. The priestly classes had much divine instruction, and they repeatedly, and with great fervor, invoked the light of protection for earth and all her inhabitants. The women of earth who would receive these laggard souls into their bodies for birth were carefully chosen, in regard to their ability to hold great light within their spiritual beings and physical forms, in the hope that this would have great and positive influence upon the incoming souls.

For a time, all went according to plan, and these children were born upon the earth. Great efforts were made to instruct them in the ways of light! It was thought that “contagion of consciousness” would allow the great light of earth to penetrate into the laggard consciousness and begin to “lift them up” and influence them for good. However, there came a time, as these children grew into adolescence, that Divine Law took precedence and mandated that their karmic liabilities be released into their growing consciousness from their Holy Christ Selves.

The “Great Testing” Begins

This was the test – as to whether these souls would be able to continue on “the path of light,” or whether they would devolve under the weight of these newly-released karmic energies – the weight and import of which was terrific. Then, at this time, these laggard souls began to use their powers of thought and feeling to create ideas, thoughtforms, and even physical creations which did not contain the Patterns of Perfection in the Mind of God. And in this way, among these laggard souls, there began the “experimentations” with the “Knowledge of Good and Evil,” and earth began on the path toward becoming a planet of duality and the polarization of consciousness.

As these children grew into young adulthood, they continued to experiment with these levels of consciousness – mentally creating, through their free will choice, many types of things which were not in harmony with the Divine Plan for Earth. As a direct result of this activity, the atmosphere of earth began to be heavily polluted with these destructive ideas and creations. The original inhabitants of earth had believed that, with sufficient love and instruction, they would be able to influence these laggard beings to adopt “the ways of light,” and begin to create in harmony with the patterns of perfection existing in the Divine Mind of our Creator.

Unfortunately, the exact opposite occurred, and the inhabitants of earth soon found themselves, instead, and despite all efforts of the priestly classes, being greatly influenced mentally and emotionally by the creations of these laggard souls -- until many found it attractive to begin to experiment by making creations which did not contain the divine blueprint for earth. When this happened, many souls on earth, which had been a part of the original divine plan for earth, became themselves caught up in this level of lower, dysfunctional consciousness.

As this energy gradually spread through the consciousness of earth, those of the elemental kingdom, who had long ago taken an oath to obey human beings, were forced to create on these patterns which were less than “The Patterns of Perfection” existing in divine consciousness. Then, according to the Beings of Light, “ensued all manner of depravity.” The effects of this activity began to appear in the human bodies, which were illness, disease, and death. And, “all manner of wickedness” was thus brought upon the earth – which eventually caused “the fall from grace” of humanity – often called “The Fall of Man,” which was the direct result of humanity’s loss of their ability to connect with their own Divine Presence, according to the information from the Spiritual Hierarchy.

Then ensued two million years of anguish, pain, and suffering, as the inhabitants of earth struggled in the depths of darkness – experiencing all manner of depravity – which they had brought upon themselves through their experimentations in the creation of “good and evil” – and thereby departing from the “Original Divine Plan for Earth.”

Ghostly Remnants, Floating in Space

In the Great Cosmic Council of the universe, stories were often told of this planet, the earth, which had unfortunately fallen into the depths of pain and depravity through a “loving and selfless act of service.” It was then discussed and generally decided that, since among the populations of earth, there was no one who was able to generate enough light to save her, unfortunately, the only remedy would be the dissolution of the planet. This is only done as “a last resort and final act,” and it is always reluctantly agreed to by the Council -- and only if there is no other possible means of redemption.

In this process, the etheric elements of air, water, and fire are each, in order, withdrawn from a planet – until only the element of earth is left – and that too, is finally withdrawn. As a result, there are the transparent and lifeless shapes, the only remaining aspects of these planets which have failed and been dispersed – which are sometimes seen floating in space – as the ghostly remnants of “that which once was” – because there was no one with the wherewithal to save them.

Until One, of Earthly Realm, Shall Hold Her Secure

This was to be the fate of earth, unless “One of Ascended Position and Ability” would agree to go to earth and furnish her with enough light energy to hold her secure until such time as “One of Earthly Origin” would be able to generate enough light to sustain her.

And so, this was the situation when beloved Sanat Kumara, of the planet Venus, happened to attend one of these meetings of the Cosmic Council and learn of the proposed fate of earth. He was greatly distressed by the prospect of the dissolution of such a beautiful planet as the earth had once been, and he became determined to alter what seemed to be the certainty of her fate of destruction.

Upon returning to his home on the planet Venus, there he asked permission of his Divine Complement, Lady Venus, to go and perform this selfless service for the earth. She lovingly replied that if Cosmic Law would allow it, she would also agree. And so, the plan was set forth, and after some preparations, Sanat Kumara gathered together his “Lords of the Flame” who volunteered to assist in this mission. All in all, there were nine thousand volunteers from all over the universe, who agreed to participate in this mission. Three thousand were to take human embodiment, three thousand in the nature kingdom, and three thousand in the angelic realms.

From the Stars, He Came . . .

Lord Sanat Kumara Vows to Save the Earth from Certain Destruction

Never was a mission more perilous, or more seemingly impossible to perform! But Sanat Kumara, with his volunteers, the “Lords of the Flame,” were determined to save the earth. In this mission, first they secured permission from the Karmic Board for the Lords of the Flame to take earthly incarnation. When this was complete and they had grown to adulthood, then they tirelessly labored in the construction of their beautiful and sacred Temple, which they named “Shamballa” – a word which carries the meaning and energies of the words “beautiful, sacred place, devoted to God.”

It was to be a replica of the Temple of Shamballa, which stands within the City of the Sun in the heart of Venus. This would be the place, constructed on an island which was accessed by only one bridge from the mainland, where Lord Sanat Kumara would take residence on the planet, and by constantly Invoking Light from the Higher Realms, furnish her with enough Light energy to continue her existence.

Over the period of nine hundred years, the volunteers, in their human forms, labored in the construction of Shamballa. Three times was this Temple constructed, and twice it was overrun and completely destroyed by the hordes of “The Fallen Ones” on earth – who also killed all the human “workers for the light” – so determined were they to eradicate every trace of “The Light of Creator” from the planet. And twice did the Lords of the Flame return and rebuild the Temple after destruction. The third and final time it was constructed, it was protected – and stood inviolate for eons of time – until finally, after 4 ½ million years of service, the Sacred Mission was complete, and the earth was secured in Light!

Each time the Temple was destroyed, it was necessary for the volunteers to return to earth to continue their mission, and each time, the Lords of the Flame were required to petition the Lords of Karma for reincarnation on the planet. This request was quickly granted, and they were born to earthly mothers and grew into manhood, and all the while, were required to carry and maintain the knowledge of their Sacred Mission and purpose within their heart flames so that they could begin anew on the construction of Shamballa. On the third attempt, they did complete this monumental task and were Divinely Victorious in their efforts!

As it is written in the sacred divine records of this event, beloved Sanat Kumara remained in self-imposed exile at Shamballa on the Planet Earth, in his official capacity as Lord of the World, for 4 ½ million years – maintaining the earth in light and preventing her destruction, until such time as “one of earthly origin” would be able to “pierce the Veils of Maya, and lift up into light,” thereby bringing enough light through his consciousness alone to sustain the entire earth and allow her and all her life the opportunity to advance in consciousness, and re-join the other planets of the system in their spiritual advancement.

(Note: At this time, the earth has been in a similar perilous situation – being the one planet lagging behind, and having been threatened with destruction, by not being able to advance into fifth dimensional consciousness with the rest of our solar system, which is in the process of “being breathed up an octave in divine service.” Because we originally entered into this this situation through an act of “selfless love and divine service,” there have been countless plans and agendas formulated by those attending the Great Cosmic Councils, and many other sources within our galaxy as well, to assist the earth to successfully make this shift. At this time, the Beings of Light tell us that we are assured of success.)

Lord Gautama Buddha was the one human being on earth who, at that time, was finally, and after much consistently focused labor towards this goal, able to be successful in penetrating the Veils of Maya, the clouds of darkness surrounding the earth, and uniting his consciousness with the divine realms. In this way, he was able to act as a “Pillar of Light” on the earth, and through his efforts alone, he was able to sustain the earth in light, and to assure her continued viability as a planet – thus giving her and all her life the opportunity to now advance, with the rest of our solar system, into fifth dimensional consciousness.

At this juncture, in a sacred ceremony on January 21, 1956, which was attended by all the Spiritual Hierarchy, Lord Sanat Kumara was able to pass the title and office of Lord of the World to Lord Gautama, and then return to his home on Venus, and to his Beloved Lady Venus. However, in the present day, he often visits earth, and sometimes acts as a “commuter” between his home planet, Venus, and his “adopted planet,” the earth.

At noon on Thanksgiving Day, November 26, 1964, the Spiritual Hierarchy tells us that Shamballa was relocated from the etheric realms above the Gobi Desert, where it originally stood, to the etheric realms above the northern shore of Long Island, New York, where, “It shall remain, until such time as it is lowered into the physical realm of earth, to be visible to all.”

This area was chosen because of its long history of “sacred service to the Light.” In the days of Atlantis, half a million years in the past, this area, which is now Long Island, was considered to be holy ground frequented by only the Priests and Priestesses of the area. Due to their constant Invocations of Light, the energies were such that only those in Divine Service could withstand the frequencies of this place without dire consequences for their physical forms. At that time, it was considered, by the Spiritual Hierarchy, to be “the most highly charged spot on Earth.”

The Message from Count St. Germain and Lady Portia: What Knowledge May Be Drawn from This Experience of the Laggards?

“The Jewel of Consciousness” by Lady Portia

In our estimation, the most valuable lesson for each of you is learning the importance of guarding your precious divine consciousness, and maintaining it free from unwanted intrusion, manipulation, effect, or assault. Realize how precious is “the jewel of your consciousness,” and protect this with constant vigilance against all manner of intrusion or attack – as these things DO happen – far more often than we would like to see!

And while doing this, you will also learn to sustain, inviolate, your connection with your Divine Source. If the original inhabitants of Lemuria had been schooled sufficiently in this ONE principal of how to keep their connection with Divine Source energy, it would have been possible for them to repel the contagion which penetrated the levels of their consciousness due to the presence and activities of the laggards. But they neglected to maintain this connection, and, as a result, they fell into the depths of depravity, pain, and darkness! They lost their civilization, and almost caused the complete destruction of earth.

We tell you now, to realize that you STILL need to guard your consciousness, your mind and thoughts, as well as your emotions, against all manner of intrusion by the lower energies! Many times, this is not personal – it may not come from any individual human source, but from the “mass consciousness” on earth, or from the psychic and astral realms – because these things still exist in the present day -- and are sometimes, unfortunately, able to exert control over the unwary or undeveloped consciousness which is not forever striving to maintain divine connection!

You will need to constantly examine the contents of your thoughts and feelings – and guard the gateway to your consciousness with a Portal of the Violet Flame! Only that which is able to pass, unobstructed, through this Sacred Flame is a fit product for contemplation by your mind. This is the purpose of the Violet Flame – to guard humanity against receiving the effects of this continuing contagion and infection of thought and feeling which, unfortunately, still exist and are daily “at work” upon your planet – to ensnare the unwary, unprepared, or ill-informed.

“My Message to the World” by Count St. Germain

If I had but one message which I were able to broadcast instantly to the consciousness of all humanity, it would be this: to constantly enfold your developing consciousness within the protective influence and effect of this powerful Violet Flame – and to constantly examine the thoughts and feelings that you are allowing to penetrate within your consciousness, and “take root” there, in the fertile ground of your imagination, thoughts, desires, and emotions.

It was this one “slip” – the failure to guard their consciousness -- made by the inhabitants of Lemuria – from which has ensued 6 ½ million years of suffering for the people of earth! But this does not need to continue, if you will realize the freeing power of the Violet Flame! This was the purpose for which it was brought to earth, and anchored here, by my own humble self, through the God-Victorious Activity of Light which I pursued through many incarnations – for this purpose – to make this Flame available to humanity for their Salvation and Eternal FREEDOM! Avail yourselves now, of the healing, cleansing, and protective powers of this Sacred Flame – which IS now and ever has been a Divine Gift from on High – to All Humanity without regard to race, creed, or national origin.

The Ray and The Flame

Invocation of the Violet Transmuting Flame

All that is necessary in order to call forth the Activity of the Violent Transmuting Flame from the higher realms is to focus upon the Three-Fold Flame, the Presence of Divinity within your heart center, with that strong intention, and to send that energy out – into the higher dimensions – expecting a response! This Flame contains the crystalline pink energies of Divine Love, the sapphire blue energies of Divine Authority, Will, and Power, and the gold flame of Divine Wisdom -- and it is humanity’s connection with the Divine realms.

The focus of your consciousness, thus directed, will elicit a response from On High, in the form of the Sacred Ray, coming forth, and striking the earth – where it will instantly blaze into a Flame of the Violet Fire!

You may then use the power of this Sacred Flame to consume all manner of debris in, on, or around your auric field and physical body. Have confidence in what you are doing, and do not allow doubt or worry to come into your mind – but proceed with the knowledge that this Flame is immediately effective in removing all energies and thoughtforms of a lower vibratory action.

No specific activities are required – just the presence of the Flame – blazing through your four lower bodies, but you may use sweeping motions with your hands and arms, if you desire, to cast off lower energies into the Flame, and to focus the presence of your consciousness on what you are set to accomplish. The Flame will do its work – directed by the Divine Intelligence within it!

The Divine Mission – Stated by Count St. Germain

It is the Divine Mission, for myself and Lady Portia, and the others involved with the Violet Flame Activity, including Archangels Zadkiel and Holy Amethyst, Elohim Arcturus and His Divine Complement, Lady Diana, and others, to anchor this Flame firmly within the hearts and minds of ALL humanity who are now extant on this Planet! That is our Goal – that is our Purpose – and we will work unceasingly until this Goal Is Realized.

Our Divine Goal

To see the Full Restoration in Consciousness for All Humanity Now abiding on Earth – and to see her, and you, Wholly Ascended and Free!

By Divine Will And Law

The Work Is Done

The Contributions of Count St. Germain and Lady Portia In the Restoration of Earth

Count St. Germain and Lady Portia are the Co-Directors of the Seventh Ray of Divine Perfection, which has as its Keynote, the Violet Ray Activity. In the present 2,000-year cycle of the precession of the equinoxes, where we now find ourselves, in the Age of Aquarius, the Violet Ray is bathing the earth in its Light, in preparation for our entrance into the Permanent Golden Age of Enlightenment and Divine Perfection on Earth.

Having long since earned his Freedom and Ascension to the Light, Count St. Germain nevertheless willingly chose, through his selfless service to the Light, to reincarnate many times more upon the earth as an Ascended Master, and therefore was able to successfully anchor the Violet Ray Activity into the energies of earth. This was no small endeavor, since the Violet Transmuting Flame is an exceptionally powerful Ray of Divine Light, and only an Ascended Being in human form would be able to direct this huge Ray of divine energy to anchor into the body of earth. He accepted the challenge of this self-imposed assignment because it was well known at the time that the Violet Transmuting Flame was “the last best hope for saving the earth,” which was still teetering on the brink of destruction due to the weight of the miscreation still extant upon her.

Over the centuries, Count St. Germain has also acted as divine inspiration, advisor, and teacher to countless millions on the Earth. Some of these students have been “beginners on the path,” and others are actively involved in the process of seeking their Ascension to the Light. In this endeavor, he has telepathically and energetically assisted and instructed many students, and also has given the information for many spiritually-inspired writings to assist humanity in this endeavor of gaining their Mastery and Ascension.

Lady Portia is well-known in spiritual circles for her divine levels of service, holding the dual positions of Spokesman/Chairman for the Karmic Board – Spokesman having to do with “outer communications” of the Board to other entities, and Chairman having to do with the “inner workings,” such as the various preparations and activities of the Board. In this position, she has served for literally eons of time, both coordinating and directing activities of the Karmic Board, as well as many facets of the education and preparation of the lifestreams who desire to choose incarnation upon earth. She is also active in many pursuits regarding the ongoing education and preparation necessary for humanity’s ascension into fifth dimensional consciousness.

She is less well-known for her many activities which involve both participating in and directing what might be called “outreach programs” to other planets, which are yet still evolving, and can benefit from guidance. Some of these are of a military nature, when necessary, for the preservation of life and freedom upon these planetary systems. She is a great “networker,” who organizes the participation and assistance from many planetary realms for the benefit of earth’s evolutionary progress. She is also well-known for her many efforts – extending to the far reaches of the galaxy – in support of freedom and enlightenment

The Saviors of Earth

What may we, as human beings on earth, now learn from all of this? Perhaps one of the most important lessons lies in our ability to STUDY, LEARN, AND REMEMBER these “Legends of the Earth” – so that we do not repeat the mistakes of the past!

We are forever indebted to these Divine Beings, who, through their selfless service to Love and Light, have acted as “The Saviors of Earth”:

Beloved Sanat Kumara, now Regent of the Earth, and his Lords of the Flame, from the planet Venus, as well as the other volunteers who came from throughout the cosmos, to support this Mission.

Lord Gautama, who, in ancient Lemuria, assumed the office of Lord of the World, allowing Lord Sanat Kumara to return to his home on the planet Venus.

Jesus, the Christ, who continued aiding the Earth in His Divine Mission of bringing and anchoring the Light.
