Live Channeling at an Event:

Greetings, My Dears,

We are joining all of you today in higher consciousness, to have this opportunity to speak on the subject of how you may best understand these situations of rioting, violence, and destruction -- which are now taking place in many of your cities! First of all, you need to know that this activity is a direct result of the effects of the “fallen energies of Atlantis,” some of which, unfortunately, still remain on earth. And I don’t need to tell you that this is truly “a time like no other!”

Realize that this is “a cycle” in the times of what is occurring on earth. And it is exactly what needs to happen now, in order to move you through some of these deeper and denser energies, which have been on the earth for a very long time. This is not something new! It is, quite simply, the emergence of energies which are just now coming to the surface and being revealed to human consciousness.

These are the deeper layers and levels of the negativity which is in the process of being released and removed from the earth now, through this process of “transmutation into higher energies,” through the activity of the well-known Violet Transmuting Flame! It is becoming very popular now on the earth for those who know how to use it, because it is a great protection against the levels of this negativity which is “swirling like storms” through the atmosphere of earth. And things such as this can be very dangerous! They can be very destructive to the people who are the “unwitting participants” in this type of thing.

And that is what you are seeing now! You are seeing so many people who ARE the unwitting participants in these very deep, destructive levels of the negativity which is surfacing. Some of this energy is coming from these deeper levels of the Atlantean energies – which have never been fully released from the earth – because they could not have been accessed previously. And this is due to the fact that they would have destroyed the earth.

“A Bonfire of Negativity”

And so, what is needed now is the ability to find a balance point, so that you are able to release enough of it to begin to clear it – without having it modulate into a very destructive “flame of consciousness,” which could then overpower the light in certain areas of earth. Therefore, this is like a very delicate operation, where the patient is very ill, and the surgeon is trying to cut out and remove the growth or the cancer, or whatever this “mass” is, without killing the patient!

This has become, as you know, a very serious situation on the earth, but it is not a dangerous situation as far as the long-range well-being of earth. This is true, because what we see happening is that enough of this material will be revealed and removed, through this process, to initiate the clearing that is needed to be experienced, for the well-being of earth, and for humanity, as well. In the interim, many people are releasing very long-standing patterns of negativity – which stretch very far back in their soul’s history.

You do not even realize the magnitude of this great clearing, which creates the opportunity for healing. It is taking place through what seems to be violence and destruction in some areas of your country. For example, it is occurring in some of these cities where circumstances have become, yes, total anarchy! This has become like a “bonfire of negativity.” And I’m sure you remember that, in some times and places, people will create a great bonfire to destroy old structures, or various items which have outgrown their usefulness and are no longer needed. Well, this is the useful aspect of these destructive activities in some of these places where the riots, the burning of buildings, and all of this great destruction is occurring.

“The Law of Correspondence”

These are the bonfires that are burning up, and effectively removing, great amounts of this extreme negativity which has been “encapsulated” in some areas deep within the earth. But it is not only within the earth, because, you see, what is within the earth has its “correspondence” in human thought, attitude, and emotion. And so, the bonfire is within YOU, as well!

(Note: The Law of Correspondence, one of the Universal Laws, may be expressed, in this way, “As above, so below; as below, so above,” recognizing the basic relationship which exists among all things in existence, due to having been created by One Divine Source.)

You may now observe the “correspondence of all things” existing within each element participating in this activity. You see, part of this activity is manifesting in your three-dimensional world, as a bonfire that is in a particular area or a particular city. But I can tell you that the “corresponding” bonfire is within the consciousness of humanity! And it is burning up a great deal of these very degraded, misqualified, and dangerous energies – which could have caused a lot of mischief on the earth, let us say.

That is a very good way to describe it without alarming people, because the energies of these very destructive thought-forms, which are being burned, destroyed, and consumed through the action of the “physical world” flames – have their correspondent energies which exist within and through the “emotional flames,” as well, of these riots, and all that is called forth within the emotional bodies of everyone who is observing this activity.

“Negativity Must Be Removed”

You see, to put it very succinctly, this is one of the best clearings that could have happened now on the earth, because there has been a great need to have a release and removal of all of this type of negativity – which has been stored up for a very long time! Otherwise, it could have destroyed your planet! And you know this, because it has been talked about for a very long time.

The danger, which the earth was experiencing, was that she might “cease to exist” as a viable planetary system within your larger solar system! And the ultimate goal was, is, and forever shall be, the preservation of earth. That is the ULTIMATE GOAL of all of this activity which has been taking place over a very long span of time in your history – all the way back to Atlantis – and even before that! And so, this is an illustration of what could be described as “items of activity” on a theme. And the theme, as you know, is the preservation of earth.

On this theme, we in the spiritual realms have done what was deemed necessary in order to ensure the continuance of earth as a viable entity. For this reason, it has been necessary to release this stored-up and destructive energy gradually: a bit here and there, bit by bit, throughout time and throughout history. This has been our purpose, to assist earth through a process designed to release a bit here, to release a bit there – to remove this, to remove that!

This has been a very orchestrated and important clearing and healing process for earth, and sometimes “the surgeon cuts very deep” into human consciousness! And that is what is happening now, dearest ones: It is the “surgical precision” of what is taking place! And, although what is taking place may seem overly dramatic, dangerous, or frightening to some people – know that there IS a degree of divine control over all that is happening. And it is a very good thing that it IS within divine control, because otherwise, this could have metastasized and spread into an out-of-control situation, where you would not have been happy with the results – and neither would we!

“Managers of the Flames”

And so, we are doing a great deal of “management” of these situations – with the various “tools” which we are able to employ – in order to “tamp down” things like this, if they start to get too far out of control. So, we are the “Managers of the Flames,” so to speak! We allow the intensity of it to “blaze up” here or there – wherever appropriate – and where it can effect the changes which are necessary – while still being “managed,” in a larger sense of what is occurring.

I know that many people are very fearful of things like this! They are very frightened while observing this situation, which seems to be a very dangerous situation which is totally out of control. Yes, it may be out of human control, but it is not out of our control – on the levels of the divine control which we can manage to bring forth in these situations. We do not want to see it escalate any further than what it has done now. It is at a level where it is achieving the goal, without becoming an “out-of-control conflagration,” which could spread and do quite a bit of damage – which then would cease to be on the level of what might be termed as “a beneficial level of operation.”

“Do Not Be Fearful!”

And so, do not be fearful, dearest ones, but observe the flames from the neutrality and safety of distance, because none of you are threatened by any of these flames, and we would not have it be so! We would not allow it to come near any of you. We do have command and control of these situations, believe it or not! It might not have the appearance that this is so, but yes, we are able to control these situations and to keep them modulated, so that they are the “release valves” for human consciousness, as well as many of these deeper etheric records which have been successfully stored within the energy body of Mother Earth. This has been done in order to avoid total destruction of the earth in much earlier times than when you are on the earth now.

So you can see that there is a modulation of all this type of activity. And we do keep it “tamped down,” so that it does not “flame up” too strongly and destroy too much property. Now, yes, regarding what has been destroyed, this is regrettable for the people whose lives and properties have been affected by this activity, but you see, you must observe everything in proportion, because you cannot have it both ways!

“The Balance Point”

You cannot have this negativity continuing to be stored in the realms of earth indefinitely, precisely because her energies are rising so strongly! And so, there must be a release of this energy! And this present activity has been determined, by many in the higher realms, to be the best way to reach this objective. It is the least destructive option – which has been determined to have the effect of damaging the least amount of human life and property.

We are very sensitive to these types of occurrences, and I can definitely tell you that we regret the loss of any human life! But this is a pattern which is in operation, and sometimes these things occur as a part of the larger plan or pattern which could not be avoided. And so, I hope you can observe these things “from a distance” in your consciousness, and remain somewhat separate from the events which are occurring. Be sure to maintain your separation, your energetic and physical separation, from all of these energies – because, as they exist now, they are very destructive! They are destructive to human life! They are destructive to the human form. They are destructive to everything they touch!

That is the nature of these destructive energies, and it cannot be controlled by human consciousness. It is something that is “operating on its own wavelength,” so to speak – and it must continue until it has evolved out of this spectrum of energy.

And I know you realize this! We are just stating the obvious to you now, in order to bolster up the ways that you might perceive all of these activities. Then you will be empowered to respond with awareness, and with the higher intelligence, to what you are having to perceive on the earth now. We do not like to see things like this happening, but it is the “lesser of several evils,” so to speak, which could have occurred on the earth!

I know you understand things like this, and so, let this be “a balm to your consciousness.” And I hope that this information is able to put many people at ease in regard to what seems, many times, to be very dangerous situations – which could possibly flare up and cause a larger conflagration -- both in human consciousness, and on the earth, in material form, as well.

“This Too Shall Pass”

So, just realize that “this too shall pass,” dearest ones. It is not, in fact, as dangerous as many people have feared it might be! It may not be under human control – but, at the present time, it is under divine control! And that is what is important, the fact that we are modulating this situation and allowing it to be the “release valve,” to dispense with a lot of negativity – which was doing great damage on the earth! It was causing damage to the earth, herself, as well as damage to human consciousness.

And so, I hope you see the bigger picture in regard to this situation. And I hope many people have a chance to receive this information – so that it may allay their fears and bring them into higher consciousness regarding all of these destructive and “fearfully-laced” events, which are now being woven into the larger pattern of human consciousness and life on earth.

We value all of you! We value the earth! We value the humanity existing on earth now, and we would not do anything to damage the fabric of life on earth – and its ability to continue. So know that all of this is under divine control – even if it is completely out of human control, at this point!

“You Have Freedom of Choice!”

And so, that is all we will say about this subject now. I hope that you will continue to study this information, and to realize how it is possible to perceive this situation from many different perspectives, or “angles,” as they say. That is a very high level of awareness to bring to bear on something such as this: to realize that you have the CHOICE OF THE LEVEL FROM WHICH YOU WILL PERCEIVE IT!

So, it would be my suggestion to all of you, that you move to a very high level of your consciousness before you choose to focus on this situation any further! And then it will not bother you. And it will not bother many people the way it has done in the past, once they make this simple shift in consciousness!

And let that be our word to you. We love you greatly, and we hold you in our highest esteem for all that you are doing for the earth, as well as humanity – and all life on earth.

Adieu, dearest ones, and Namaste

Portia

Star’s Note:

In Lady Portia’s reference to “fallen energies of Atlantis,” she is speaking about the energies which caused the continent of Atlantis to break apart and sink beneath the waves of the ocean. Some elements of the destructive energies we are seeing in today’s rioting may be similar in vibration to the lower, misqualified energies which were created, through ignorance, and in rebellion against the Light, in the ancient civilization of Atlantis, and which ultimately caused its destruction.
